Art. 1 - GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

Recently aesthetic medicine has become a significant reality both in the medical and social fields. The culture of well-being medicine, much felt in the societies of the industrialized West, presents the risk of being satisfied through inadequate and superficial information that, at times, leads to ineffective or even harmful "do-it-yourself" remedies.

In this context, a qualified university education, with excellence in the field, operating at the national and international level, is a guarantee for users. In addition, it is a quality response to which a public university must respond. The Master's program in Aesthetic Medicine and Therapeutics, co-organized by Camerino and Turin Universities, aims to provide graduates in Medicine and Surgery or Dentistry, members of their respective Registers, with theoretical and practical training relevant to the practice of aesthetic medicine. There are no institutionally recognized specialized figures in the field of aesthetic medicine, and it's aimed at those without pathologies who need to improve their appearance and eliminate imperfections.

It is important that personalized treatments like aesthetic medicine are based on adequate patient selection, and that diagnostic and treatment techniques are learned. A special focus should be placed on preventing and resolving any complications that may arise.

Master students will have the opportunity to take part in theoretical training through the use of information and communication technologies (ICT). By doing so, participants who are already engaged professionally will be able to attend the Master's program. The face-to-face of the training will be realized in: Italy (Rome class), Germany (Cologne class), and Greece (Athens class)

In the practical part of the training, activities will be planned for single attendants in collaboration with partners of the University of Camerino (UNICAM), Centro Internazionale Radio Medico (C.I.R.M., Rome), Human Design /Aesthetic business (Cologne) and Venus Medicine (Athens), as well as other accredited facilities located in areas that can be easily reached by Masters' attendees.

Art. 2 - PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

Master's programs are designed for doctors with different training paths in medicine and surgery, or dentistry.

This Master aims to provide a high-level training program to professionals interested in learning about the theoretical and practical bases of nonsurgical treatment of imperfections. These include scars, skin laxity, wrinkles, stains, excessive fat, cellulite, unwanted hair, discoloration of the skin, varicose veins, and cc.

Master's programs are designed to meet the requirements of graduates already engaged in the workplace, so advanced ICT tools will be used to develop a portion of the theoretical training. A program of frontal and practical activities will be implemented in intensive stages in collaboration with the C.I.R.M Fondazione (Rome, Italy), Human Design/Aesthetic Business (Cologne, Germany) and Venus Medicine (Athens, Greece). It might be possible to identify other internship solutions more easily reachable in light of the requests of a significant number of attendants.

Art. 3 - OCCUPATIONAL PROSPECTS OR IMPROVEMENT OF POSITION OR ROLE

Professionals with specialized health and beauty facilities will have more opportunities to work in their own studios, multi-specialized centres, wellness centres, gyms, spas or hotel complexes, as well as companies that manufacture and develop products in the industry.

Art. 4 – THE COURSE

Two fields are included in the Master's degree:

- An Aesthetic Medicine and Therapeutics course aimed at training Doctors-Surgeons in Aesthetic Medicine
- Face Aesthetic Medicine and Therapeutics for the training in Aesthetic Medicine of Dentists and Doctors-Surgeons registered in the dentist register

Both fields share the first year of the Master's program, which focuses mostly on theoretical training. The second year is separated for Doctors-Surgeons and Dentists or Doctors-Surgeons registered in the register of dentists.
